

“Un-explored Horizons of Wild Silks”

8th
International Conference on Wild
Silkmoths

22nd to 24th January, 2018
Guwahati, India

Welcome to Guwahati, India and the ICWS - 2018

International Society for Wild Silkmoths (ISWS), Japan and the Central Silk Board (CSB), Ministry of Textiles, Govt. of India, Bangalore take great pleasure in inviting you to the prestigious, 8th International Conference on Wild Silkmoths (ICWS-2018) being held at Guwahati, the Gateway of North-East India, from 22nd to 24th January, 2018.

ICWS - 2018

The International Conference on Wild Silk moths (ICWS) is the only international forum committed exclusively for wild silk moths that provides access to progress made in science and technology, current knowledge of the field, and the prevailing global business opportunity for wild silks.

It offers an exclusive opportunity for international scientists, universities, faculty & students of Institutions of research in host plants, silkworms, post-cocoon technology, silk processing, promotion, conservation, bio-technology, frontier areas of research, etc., including those in wild silk businesses to interact, share and exchange the most recent advancements in their fields.

Presentation of a large number of scientific papers, apart from several poster presentations covering the entire range of wild silk production and its application in various fields is expected to lead up to the formation and dissemination of current and new scientific and adaptive knowledge in the field, including honing up the base-line skills as well as core competencies of the participants.

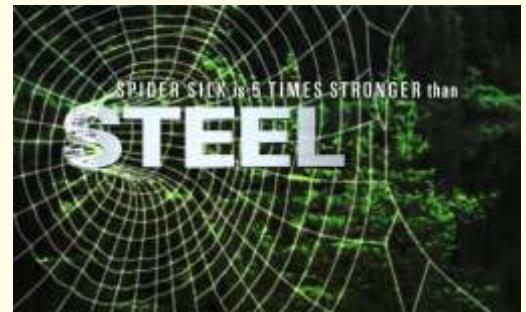

In effect, the Proceedings of the ICWS-2018 would bring together in a single, free, open, equitable access-resource, the collective knowledge and erudition of the international wild silk community, displayed in the presence of an insightful global audience, which can be usefully translated into strategic tools for the advancement of wild silk and its enormous scope and applications in many countries.

Past Wild Silkmoth Conferences....

Conference	Venue	Year
I	Shenyang, China	1990
II	Hodaka, Japan	1994
III	Bhubaneswar, India	1998

V	Shenyang, China	2008
VI	Tokyo, Japan	2010
VII	Mahasarakham, Thailand	2012

The Theme - “Un-explored horizons of wild silkworms”

The wild silk industry has been considered as a livelihood option for the forest dwellers and other weaker sections of the society in many countries. With the increasing awareness on natural products, the wild silk is becoming an ideal textile product for many consumers in the developing countries. There is greater scope for diversifying the products with the current day requirements. This apart, there is enormous scope for using wild silkworm and silk in frontier areas like industrial, pharmaceutical and nutritional sectors. Substantial research and developmental activities on these fields are being undertaken in different R&D laboratories of the world. It is critically important to aggregate and disseminate these innovations and developments among the wild silkworm fraternity so that the practice becomes more viable. Keeping these important factors in mind, the Organizers have decided to adopt the Conference theme as “Un-explored horizons of wild silkworms”. The Conference will have exclusive lead papers concerning this subject for detailed deliberation.

A Global Assembly of Distinction

The ICWS-2018 is open to persons associated with all activities concerning the use and utilities of wild silkworms. The composition of participants, limited to about 300, has been planned to be a diverse international group comprising policy planners, scientists, technocrats, resource persons, university faculty, university students, NGOs, entrepreneurs, industrialists, exporters & traders, fashion designers, machinery manufacturers, rearing accessories & chemicals manufacturers, Govt. officials, etc.

The Organizers

International Society for Wild Silkworms (ISWS), an international body headquartered at Tsukuba, Japan, is the gathering of people associated for the development and utilization of wild silkworms across the globe. The ISWS formulated during the 18th International Conference on Entomology held at Vancouver, Canada during 1988. The Society actively promotes research and developmental activities related to various types of wild silk moths. It provides a platform for exchange of information among scientists and technologists at global level.

Central Silk Board (CSB), Ministry of Textiles, Govt. of India, Bangalore, India is the Central agency for the development of sericulture and silk industry in India. For more details on CSB, please visit; www.csb.gov.in Official Language - English is the official language of ICWS-2018.

Your Contributions

Interested persons may please send the abstract of the scientific papers by soft copy directly to the Conference Secretariat by e-mail : wildsilkmothconference2018@gmail.com

An abstract should provide the context or background for the study and state the purpose of the research, scope of the experiment, major findings and principle conclusions. References in the abstract must be cited in full as like; "Sampaio et al. (2008) J. Biosci. Bioeng., 105: 305-312". The abstract should be written in the past tense as a single paragraph not exceeding 250 words. The abstract should be prepared and shall be reproduced directly. Authors will, therefore, have the full responsibility for correct design and contents. Please note the following information;

Paper size	- A4
Title	- Bold Times New Roman with 14 font size
Authors and Institution	- Italic Times New Roman with 12 font size
Text	- Times New Roman with 12 font size and written in one paragraph
Key words	- A list of three to six key words for indexing must be included in the abstract

A sample Abstract form can be referred elsewhere in the Brochure. The full paper must be submitted at the Conference desk on 22nd January 2018.

Last date for submission of abstracts together with Registration is 15th November 2017.

Selection Process for Contributions

A Scientific Committee comprising eminent scientists in the respective fields would select the contributions based on merit, contemporaneous issue selection, contextual appropriateness, equitable distributions of contributions to various Themes of different Sections, country-wise parity, and the time-slots available, etc. The Committee would also segregate the papers for oral and poster presentations.

Oral Presentations

Duration of each presentation will be 25 min (20 minute presentation followed by 5 minute question and answer session) PowerPoint package compliant to Windows 10 would be available for PPT.

Poster Presentation

Poster boards of 160 cm x 150 cm and materials for fastening posters shall be provided. The poster size should be within 120cm x 100 cm. The poster should contain the title which must be the same as that of the abstract, the name(s) of author (s) others affiliation and address(es).

Publication of Book-of Abstracts and Proceedings

The organizers reserve the right to edit and publish the Book-of-Abstracts of contributions received, and the Proceedings of the ICWS-2018. The Proceedings would include contributions selected for oral, and poster presentations, as well as other select contributions.

Silk Exhibition

An international exhibition on Sericulture and silk industry would be organized parallel to the Conference. The exhibition provides an opportunity for the visitors to experience the varied type of sericulture practiced in India besides the ethnic silk products from different geographical regions of the country. The participating countries may also use the occasion to display the sericulture development and silk products of their countries. The exhibition will have theme pavilion depicting the entire silk production chain of all 5 varieties of silk.

Hotel Accommodation for your stay

A wide range of Hotel Tariffs is available in Guwahati City. The organizers would be honoured to assist you in making your Hotel reservations, based on your choice. The hotel costs have to be settled by the delegate at the time of vacating the hotel. A Hotel Fact-Sheet is contained elsewhere in this brochure. Regarding your hotel choice, please e-mail your requirement to the Coordinator, ICWS-2018.

Indian delegates, who prefer lower range of hotel tariffs, may also contact the Coordinator, ICWS-2018, indicating their preferences and tariff ranges.

Guwahati, the host city

Situated between the southern bank of river Brahmaputra and the foothills of the Shillong plateau, with LGB International Airport to the west, and the town of Narengi to the east, Guwahati formerly Pragytishpura (Sanskrit word meaning city of eastern light), was the capital of Ancient state of Kamarupa. A metropolis, Guwahati is the largest city of Assam in India and ancient urban area in North East India. It is also the largest metropolitan area in north-eastern India. It is said to be the "Gateway" of the North East Region. History says that Guwahati is one of the ancient cities of Asia. References of the city have been made in many a story and epics. A lot of myth is also woven around Guwahati which goes back several thousands of years.

Weather: January is winter in Guwahati. The temperatures ranging from 12°C to 26°C and a mean humidity of about 65%. Winter wear is recommended.

Currency and Banking: Foreign currency exchange service is available at Guwahati Airport and the hotels. The exchange slips may be retained for conversion of Indian Rupees back into foreign currency. Major credit cards are accepted at Departmental stores, hotels, airlines, and many business centers. The organizers of ICWS-2018 would also arrange a Foreign Exchange Desk at the Venue of the Conference for your convenience.

Visa: Foreign nationals require a valid Visa to attend the ICWS - 2018 (a Conference Visa valid for 7 days). An official invitation will be sent to you from the Conference Secretariat after receiving your registration form and confirmation of the payment of Registration Fee. Delegates can apply for entry Visa along with the official invitation through online visa services or at the Indian Embassy / Consulate General / Visa Officer of the Government of India, located in their respective countries. It shall be our endeavor to make the Visa formality an easy and pleasant affair for you.

Travel: Guwahati is well connected by air, rail and road. Regular daily flights of Indian Airlines and private airlines fly from all the metros of India to Guwahati. It would take approximately 135 minutes from New Delhi, 65 minutes from Kolkata (Calcutta), 155 minutes from Mumbai (Bombay), 140 minutes from Bangalore and 140 minutes from Chennai (Madras) to fly to Guwahati. There are no direct international flights to Guwahati. However, there are many international flights connecting through other cities of India to Guwahati facilitating overseas travelers to avail through check-in facility. Guwahati Airport is 22 km away from the city center and 16 kms from the venue of the Conference. Airport transfers are part of the Registration Fee of the delegates.

SAMPLE ABSTRACT

DOES YELLOW SUBSTANCE IN SERICIN CORRELATE WITH ANTIOXIDANT ACTIVITY?

Vallaya Sutthikhum^a, Wilaiporn Rathin^a, Prachachart Nottaseney^b, Reon Somana^c

^aDepartment of Chemistry, Faculty of Science, Mahasarakham University, Mahasarakham province, 44150 Thailand

^bQueen Sirikit Sericulture Center (Roi-et), Thawatburi, Roi-et province, 45170 Thailand

^cDepartment of Biology, Faculty of Science and Palaeontological Research and Education Centre, Faculty of Science, Mahasarakham University, Mahasarakham province, 44150 Thailand

Domestic (Bombyx mori) polyvoltine yellow cocoons (NN, SR, NLI and KK race) and bivoltine white cocoons (WW) as well as the wild Eri silk cocoons (Philosamia Cynthia ricini) were degummed with hot water to get crude sericin extract. The determination of antioxidant activity in such extracts by DPPH assay revealed that Eri silk cocoon was with the highest antioxidant activity ($IC_{50} = 0.17 \text{ mg/ml}$) followed by the yellow cocoons ($IC_{50} = 0.35\text{-}0.61 \text{ mg/ml}$) and the white cocoons of B. mori ($IC_{50} = 1.1 \text{ mg/ml}$), respectively. The sericin fractionation of B. mori white and Eri silk cocoon with 5, 70 and 90% $(\text{NH}_4)_2\text{SO}_4$ yielded the white protein precipitate in all fractions whereas the precipitate from B. mori yellow cocoons salting-out with 50% $(\text{NH}_4)_2\text{SO}_4$ was yellow but that with 70 and 90% $(\text{NH}_4)_2\text{SO}_4$ was white. The DPPH assay for all protein fractions demonstrated that the white proteins fractionated by 70% $(\text{NH}_4)_2\text{SO}_4$ from all types of silk cocoons possessed very high antioxidant activity, and the highest was that from Eri silk cocoons. However, the lowest activity was found in that from the deepest yellow KK cocoons. The results suggest that not yellow substances in B. mori silk cocoons but white proteins extracted from sericin fraction of cocoons should play the major role in exhibiting antioxidant activity.

(Note: NN, Nang-noi; SR, Srisaket; NLI, Nang-lai; KK, Kaki)

Keywords: Bombyx mori, Philosamia Cynthia ricini, sericin, antioxidant activity
